

Mário Centeno
Deputy-Head of Research, Banco de Portugal

Mário Centeno is Deputy-Head of Research. His primary research interests include unemployment insurance and wage and job mobility, as well as income inequality. Prior to joining the Banco de Portugal he was an associate professor at Universidade Técnica de Lisboa. He holds a Licenciatura in Economics and a M.A. in Applied Mathematics from Universidade Técnica de Lisboa, and a M.A. and a Ph.D. in Economics from Harvard University.