Mr. Bruno Bobone
Chair, ICC Portugal

Dear Members of the ICC Banking Commission,

We are pleased to invite you to come to Lisbon, from the 14 to 19 April 2013, where international and national experts will gather to decide and shape the most relevant rules and regulations for this sector.

As all of you are certainly aware, since May 2011 the Portuguese economy has been implementing an economic and financial adjustment programme, aimed at strengthening financial stability and improving growth conditions.

In spite of this challenging environment, Portuguese banks have shown strong resilience and adjustment capacity. Both the recapitalisation and the deleveraging of the banking system have proceeded according to targets, and confidence in Portuguese banks has remained intact.

Reforms to raise competitiveness, employment and potential growth have been progressing at a strong pace. And firms have been expanding the relevant market of the Portuguese economy to fast growing economies in Africa, Latin America and Asia, with a particular focus on countries with strong historical and cultural ties with Portugal.

In Portugal, you can count on recent and well structured legal frameworks as well as on modern active policies regarding entrepreneurship, innovation and business, which have not ceased to be put in practice.

In April 2013 we will have on board an outstanding group of speakers which will include leading bankers, policy makers and government officials – also offering a unique networking opportunity for all of you.

ICC Portugal is working hard to ensure an enjoyable experience to all members of ICC Banking Commission from around the world. We are eager to make this meeting memorable and with a successful networking and business experience.

Looking forward to meeting you in Lisbon!

Bruno Bobone
Chair, ICC Portugal

Lisbon Tour Guide

Castelo | Alfama | Mouraria

The castle stands on top of the hill where the city was founded over 3 millennia ago, being the 2nd oldest capital of the European Union.

The castle's neighbourhoods, Sé (Cathedral), 'Alfama' and 'Mouraria' witness the passage of a significant number of peoples such as the Greek, the Phoenician, the Roman, several Barbarians and the Arab.

Such multicultural legacy leaved in this area a truly Arab medina, an intricate collection of narrow streets, lanes, cul-de-sac and stairs, with scattered palaces, churches, convents and belvederes.

The hill is torn by the sound of the well known Tram 28, as a magic carpet revealing this part of the city, where you can listen to a guitar and the singing of 'fado' in every corner - Intangible Cultural Heritage.

Belém

Belém hosted our ancient decision-makers who became pioneers of globalization. While the rest of Europe was living the One Hundred Years War, the Western Schism and afraid of the Turkish coming to Europe, Portugal decided to take a look further south, to discover an unknown world and to expand commercial frontiers.

By sea, we found the shape of Africa, inaugurated the route to India, and were the first to reveal Brazil, Malaysia, China and the Pacific to Europe.

In Belém you will be delighted to visit the Tower of Belém, the Monastery of Jerónimos, the Museum of the Marine and the modern art and culture centre 'Centro Cultural de Belém'.

Lisbon Tour Guide

Baixa

A big part of this 15th and 16th century Lisbon collapsed with the catastrophic earthquake of 1755. The new city, well visible in Baixa, was planned with larger streets than what was common at that time, dividing the city in blocks drawn with ruler and pen, headed by 'Praça do Comércio', one of the biggest squares in Europe, dedicated to the international commercial relations and trade, and designed as the door of access of the world to the city, the country and to Europe.

Parque das Nações

One of the fringes of the city, by the river Tagus, is pointing to the future: 'Parque das Nações' was designed to host Expo 98, celebrating the 500^o anniversary of the Portuguese sea route to India. Nowadays it is a vital business and cultural centre of the Portuguese capital, well planned around aired avenues and having a privileged communication with the river.

Fundação Champalimaud

In the opposite side of the city, in Belém, you will find The Champalimaud Center for the Unknown – the most recent Portuguese institution that is in the world's forefront of top scientific research.

The Champalimaud Foundation supports individual researchers and research teams working at the cutting edge of biomedical science. It aims to stimulate novel theoretical and practical methodologies, by utilising the experience of both research scientists and medical practitioners.
