

Ruediger Geis
Managing Director / Senior Product Manager, Commerzbank

Ruediger Geis is Managing Director / Senior Product Manager for trade related issues within Financial Institutions of Commerzbank. He is located in Frankfurt.

Prior to his current position he was responsible for the product management trade services for financial institutions covering all aspects of trade solutions, including guarantees, letters of credit, buyer's credit, supply chain finance, and trade risk distribution. Throughout his more than 20 years in banking Ruediger has played different functions in the area of international trade and business and has held various assignments within the bank in Frankfurt, Bahrain, and New York.

Ruediger is an active member in various trade initiatives and headed the working group on the BAFT-IFSA Master Participation Agreement for Trade Transactions. He holds a Bachelor Professional of International Trade & Management (CCI) and is married with three children.